Concert slated to assist with Pyles' medical bills

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Hundreds of Hale Creek Elementary School children are busy creating homemade get-well cards for their friend and fellow student, Cymonne Pyles, who is being treated for a brain tumor at St. Jude's Children's Hospital in Nashville, Tenn. In addition it was announced that a charity concert will be held in Cymonne's honor at 7 p.m. Nov. 21 at the Wayne Wesleyan Church, 5225 Venoy road in Wayne. Admission to the two hour concert featuring "Faces of Adam" is $4 and the funds will be used to help defray the 9-year-old's medical bills. Cymonne, daughter of Deborah and Jeff Pyles of Romulus, was diagnosed with a rare type of brain tumor just before Halloween 1996. She has undergone treatment and surgeries locally at Henry Ford Hospital and at St. Jude's. Doctors at Henry Ford Hospital sadly recommended recently that Cymonne be placed in a hospice program. Cymonne, who is still taking steroids and chemotherapy, is also undergoing four weeks of treatments in a Hyperbaric Capsule that is filled with pressurized oxygen. Doctors say the treatment helps speed healing and stabilizes side effects that Cymonne is currently experiencing. A printed update on Cymonne's condition states that she is now "very weak," has difficulty walking and reading. But her parents state that "daily trips to the hospital mailroom brighten Cymonne's day." Thus the students are constantly making hundreds of touching and humorous get-well cards each week and having them mailed to Cymonne. Her parents also request that area residents keep Cymonne's family and doctors in their prayers. Donations to help out with the medical costs can be sent to the Cymonne Pyles Medical Account, in care of NBD at 10421 Middlebelt Road in Romulus, MI. 48174. Cards or donations may also be sent to the Pyles family at 28603 Burning Tree, Romulus, MI. 48174.

City promotions follow election

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Two city hall promotions were announced Monday night following the results of last week's election process. City Clerk Linda Choate, who lost two staff members after the election, named Terry Hermenau as her new deputy clerk. Hermenau, who has worked in the clerk's office for nearly eight years, replaces

Pamela Morrison Kersey, who was elected as the new city treasurer. Hermenau's former title was administrative secretary to Choate. Choate praised Hermenau by saying "he does an excellent job and will continue that excellence in his new position." Hermenau also is an experienced computer programmer, who has helped with much of the election night statistical roundups. Kersey also named Kathy Lindroth, the clerk's office property clerk, as her new deputy treasurer. No announcement on her successor was announced at this time. Kersey took over the treasurer's office at noon Monday from former treasurer James Napiorkowski, who opted not to seek re-election. City Hall was closed Tuesday in honor of Veterans Day.

Oakley, council winners begin 1st 4-year terms

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Newly re-elected Mayor William Oakley, fresh from a one-sided win the week before, thanked the voters who turned out to vote for both him and his opponent, Leo Knasiak, but also warned that "voter apathy" was a major problem again this year. Less than 3,600 voters turned out on Nov. 4 from a possible 15,000 registered voter list in the city. Oakley pulled 2,322 of those voters to Knasiak's 999. Knasiak took the Michigan Community Newspaper's mayoral campaign coverage to task, complaining that this writer hurt his campaign by giving alibis for Oakley, who failed to attend one of the Environmental Protection Agency's recent hearings on the deepwell issue. While voter apathy has been a major problem in past Romulus elections, a similar problem exists across the U.S. and seems to be worsening. Samples of other statements issued by victorious city officials on Monday include: City Clerk Linda Choate, who lost two staff members following the election, praised her entire staff's handling of a cluster of five elections in the past six months. Newly elected City Treasurer Pamela Kersey said "I want to thank God first and then my family members and campaign workers." Kersey also thanked Choate for "opening the first doors for her career in city government."

Less than 3,600 voters turned out on Nov. 4 from a possible 15,000 registered voter list in the city.

Mayor pro tem Randolph Gear reminded those in attendance that he won by only eight votes in his first try for public office. Today he has become one of the city's top vote getters. He urged the youth in attendance to "prepare for the future" so they are ready when it is their time to lead. Council pro tem William Wadsworth told the citizens gathered there that "it was the late Mary Ann Banks, who instructed us early on that it was alright to disagree on the council floor, but to make sure we left the meetings still friends." Freshman Councilman LeRoy Burcroff said he was excited to win the election (he finished third in the votes) and said he will continue to consider himself "a servant of the people." Councilman William Crova said his first two years on the council seemed to just fly on by and he now was looking to city growth including a new recreational center and outlet shopping mall for local residents as well as visitors to Romulus. Councilwoman Debbie Romak promised that the theme of her next four years on the council will be "citizens' needs must come first." Councilman Michael Prybyla, who finished in a tie for sixth place, joked neither he nor Don Morris wanted to be the last speaker of the day, so they flipped a coin. Prybyla obviously won. Ironically four years ago Prybyla finished in a tie for seventh place, forcing a recount. Freshman Councilman Donald Morris joked "I've been around Oakley so long that I don't want to speak too long either." But he reminded those in the chambers "my late dad (Carl Morris) urged all four of his sons 'to give something back to their community.' Well I'm finally doing it." State Sen. Loren Bennett (R-Canton) served as the master of ceremonies for the inauguration. Thirty fourth District Court Judge Henry Zaborowski conducted the official swearing in procedure. A social hour followed the ceremonies.

Make requests Christmas wish program offers assistance to needy

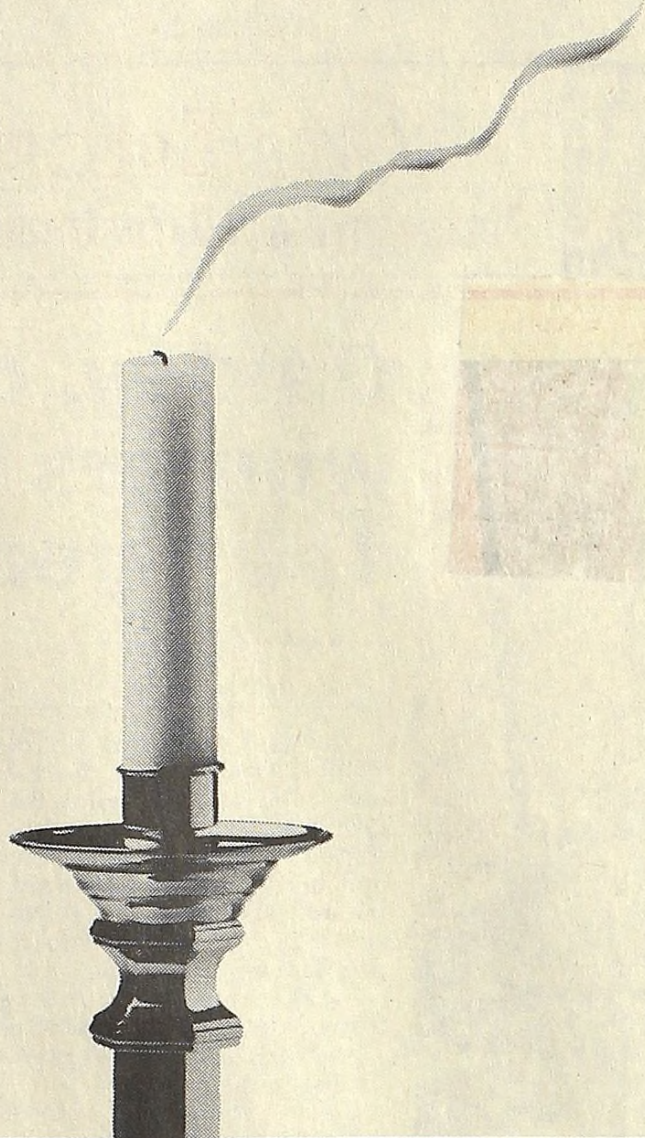

The season of giving is fast approaching, and once again, Michigan Community Newspapers is organizing its annual Christmas Wish project for Western Wayne County residents. Each year, hundreds of area families receive Christmas gifts from MCN, courtesy of the newspaper, area businesses, community organizations and residents. From bicycles to clothing to a holiday dinner with all the trimmings, hundreds of gifts have been provided to the needy. Western Wayne County families are encouraged to write their holiday requests for themselves or for another needy individual to: Christmas Wishes, MCN, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. 48184. Deadline for letters is at the close of business on Nov. 28. However, letters should be mailed as early as possible to

Hunting season brings concerns for canines

Dogs are suppose to be "man's best friend." Unfortunately, it has become an all-too-common occurrence for hunting dogs to be left on the trail, lost or abandoned. When this happens, their future is bleak. The dog either ends up starving to death or being hit by a car.

"It's very common this time of year," said Mike Killian, director of the Michigan Anti-Cruelty Society (MACS). "Many times, hunters will go to an animal shelter and adopt a dog to take hunting, sometimes for as little as $5. Then, if the dog doesn't do well, or it gets lost, they're only out $5."

The dog was so starved, he could barely stand. He was also too weak to bark.

At the Romulus Animal Shelter, five abandoned hunting dogs were found in a one week period, including one dog brought in while the interview was being conducted for this story.

According to Romulus Animal Control Officer Kim Matthews, a foxhound was brought into the shelter Nov. 3. The dog was so starved, he could barely stand. He was also too weak to bark. When the officers put food in his cage, the dog gobbled it up.

"If someone was keeping the dog that way, he couldn't handle going out hunting," Matthews said. "He was probably out there a long time."

While the foxhound has improved immensely, he is now running and barking, the dog is still very thin.

"Usually, the dogs end up getting hit by cars," Killian explained. "This happens when they attempt to find their way home or they are looking for someone to take them in. It points out the need for stricter regulations in how animals are adopted."

Killian said hunters need to be more responsible with their dogs, making sure they are trained properly, and that they are wearing identification. Many hunters don't put a collar on their dog because they don't want them getting caught as they run through the brush. Killian pointed out that there are other forms of identification, such as a tattoo or a microchip.

The MACS director explained that it is nearly impossible to prove someone guilty of abandonment in these cases.

"We have to prove that there was intent to abandon," Killian said. "If you can't prove that, you'll have a difficult time convicting the person. They could say that they got separated from the dog."

Matthews said the dog will be available for adoption at the Romulus Animal Shelter on Nov. 13.

"Thank goodness for Kim," Killian said of the officer. "She is an excellent animal control officer. She really takes the time to care for the animals. I've been all over the state, and she is definitely one of the best."

Local man wins prize

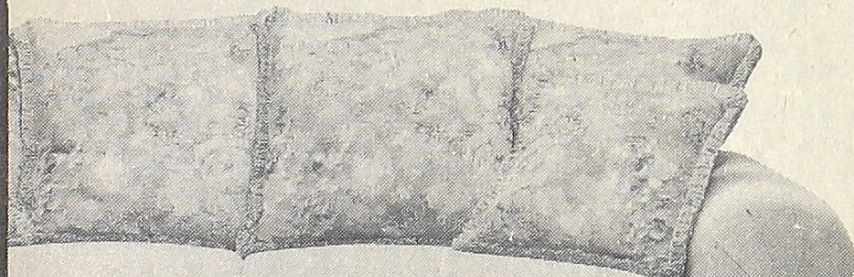

Mark Zylka of Canton won first place at the Dearborn Division Level of the Toast Masters Club in the humorous speech category for his presentation titled "A Respectable Profession." The speech detailed his reasons, in a humorous way, for wanting to become a lawyer.

The contest was held Oct. 23 at the Unity Church of Today in Warren.

Zylka won competitions at the club and area levels before winning the division prize. He defeated four speakers at the area level and three speakers at the division competition.

He belongs to Toast Masters Club 5689-The Hi-Nooners, a club at General Dynamics in Sterling Heights. Currently, he holds the office of vice president of special events. He and his family live in Canton.

Wayne resident receives a surprise

Long-time Wayne resident and Northwest Airlines employee, Lon O'Rourke, was presented with a surprise of a lifetime when he turned 50 last week as his family and friends came together to celebrate his extraordinary life.

For over 25 years, O'Rourke has fought the nephritis, a kidney disease. Despite two failed kidney transplants, O'Rourke has superseded the odds by being one of the longest living kidney patients in the United States. In addition, he has never let this disease take control of his life.

He has performed feats that were never supposed to be in his cards; three beautiful children, full-time employment, extensive travel, and most importantly, a fulfilling and happy life.

His wife, Cheryl, spent over eight months preparing for this surprise gala that was held on Saturday at the Wayne Recreation Center and attended by over 180 people. The festivities began a 6 p.m. and continued until after 2 p.m.

Guests traveled from all over the nation to honor their hero: Minnesota, San Diego, Mississippi and Tennessee.

Some of the Northwest crew who have supported O'Rourke from the onset of this terrible disease, raised over $400 for this event. This is not a unique deed for these individuals who through the years banded together to pay the O'Rourkes' house payment for over six months when O'Rourke went through his first transplant over 20 years ago. Additional highlights included Cheryl thanking her family for unconditional love and support. Her mother, Clara Jones, went back to work and signed over every paycheck to Cheryl to get them through the rough times during the first transplant. Cheryl's sister and brother-in-law, Sue and Al Gord, helped raise their oldest son, Devin, during his childhood years, and finally her brother and sister-in-law, Brad and Julie Jones, drove her to the hospital every day.

A special tribute was given to the two nurses, Gloria Smith and Tina Moon, who have dialyzed O'Rourke for the past two decades.

Entertainment consisted of a DJ with a special appearance by local alternative band, Guaranteed Rejection. The O'Rourkes' son, Colin, the lead singer, wrote and performed a song for his dad.

"This has been one of the most emotional and heart-felt moments of my life. I am the luckiest man in the world," O'Rourke said.

O'Rourke grew up in Easton, Minn., but moved to Detroit when he was transferred here with Northwest in the late 1960s. Cheryl is involved in the Wayne Civitan Club and other local charities.

Their three children are: Devin, 22; Bridget, 17; and Colin, 16.

Speed limit Girl wins dragster

By JENNY JOHNSON
MCN Staff Writer

It's a good thing she likes racing, because Katie Szostek, 8, of Wayne won a Castrol Syntec Jr. dragster in a raffle.

"We've been a racing family for years," said Lucy Szostek, Katie's mom.

When their parents went to Indianapolis for the Nationals, they entered Katie and her sister, Jaimie, in a raffle sponsored by the Drag Racing Association of Women (DRAW), which has raised over $7,000 to help the families of injured or deceased drivers.

With over 3,500 contestants, Katie was amazed when she answered the phone call from The Keystone Nationals in Reading, Penn., and found that they had just pulled her name as the winner of the dragster.

This was the only dragster DRAW raffled off nation-wide this year.

Katie plans on racing her car at Milan Dragway this spring. She and her sister, who has her own dragster, will compete with other youths ages 8 to 17. They will compete for prizes and scholarship money.

Since this will be her first time racing, her mom said they want to get her out in the dragster to practice soon "so she can get used to how to handle it."

Katie will also practice with go-carts to test her acceleration and get used to bouncing off the tires.

Popek says 'farewell'

I'VE BEEN WRITING this column since January, 1980. When (former owner) Dave Willett called and asked me to write it, I couldn't imagine finding enough people and events to write about each week. Then (former) Mayor Pat Norton called and asked me to do it because it would be good for the city of Wayne to have a column which focused on the positive happenings and positive people in our city. I agreed to try it, and have never had trouble finding good things to write about.

For the first five years, I had a new name mentioned each week that had not been there previously. For awhile I included a "Wayne Confidential" about someone or something that happened and some people knew about it. People had to guess who it was about!

We found out that readers like to hear good news. When the city of Wayne Community News Show began it was strictly news, but the comment we heard the most was, "Why don't you make it more like your column?" It's been a lot of fun and I've come to know many of you who sent me information on a regular basis.

Many new businesses and even new buildings have come into existence since I've been writing this column and I've tried to help promote them all - trying to please everyone. I made my own rule that events at churches and at bars or lounges would be balanced and they have been. I've grown to know so many people and the things that are close to their hearts through interviews. Everyone comes across well when you talk about their favorite subject.

City council members as well as city employees have come and gone and, hopefully, you felt you knew them a little better through this column.

Great to live in Wayne

Sharon
Popek

I've called churches and club members asking for information and tried to treat them all fairly. Some were more willing to provide information and so they received more publicity.

The Wayne Eagle's policy has always allowed me to promote my favorite causes and I'm sure you all recognize them - stories about children, reading, animals, recreation and organizations such as Civitans, Goodfellows and Business and Profession Women of which I am a member.

There will always be competition between the police and fire departments as to which received more mention. Those were some of the things which made it fun!

I'm happy that I was here to see all the new developments such as the Aquatic Center and the new Wayne Public Library. I enjoyed the play last weekend and am glad to see the arts and entertainment emphasis in our city.

Because of health problems with winter weather, I'm moving, but I will be back here regularly to visit with family and friends in the area. I'll get the Wayne paper in North Carolina so I can see what's happening here.

I'm truly appreciative of all the farewell gifts, cards and good wishes I have received. It's hard to leave when I have so many ties. However, this seems to be the right time to start a new life. I'll miss all of you as it always seemed like one big happy family here.

Truly, it's been "great to live in Wayne."

Women urged to 'make difference'

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

While honoring the six women who earned the YWCA of Western Wayne County's 1997 Women of Achievement awards, keynote speaker Deborah Insley Dingell challenged the women present to lead a grass-roots effort to improve their communities.

"Achievements can mean a lot of things," said Dingell. "It's not limited to breaking the 'glass ceiling' in business endeavors. Women should work to achieve a better community. 'Be involved, stay involved and care,'" Dingell told the audience.

Dingell said that we, as a society, have a tendency to blame and to delay when we are faced with problems.

"Stop blaming, work together and stop stalling," she said.

She noted that the YWCA has been a leader in solving social problems, and she believes that a woman-to-woman movement can successfully address social needs.

"In Detroit, less than one-half of the public school kindergartners will graduate from high school," she said, noting that the problems are "ours, not theirs."

She chided suburbanites for not identifying with Detroit and its problems.

"We have a ring of little circles, and I'm worried that more and more we are moving into smaller circles and huddles," she said. "The American dream could crumble by individuals giving up the larger community to form circles of people who think like us, look like us and behave like us."

Dingell said we are not willing to say "ours," when we discuss the problems of Detroit. In Chicago, for example, those who live in the suburbs still identify with the city, unlike those who live beyond the borders of Detroit.

"The image of Detroit is increasingly positive, and both city and suburbs must work together," Dingell said, adding that we must promote the concept of community and the satisfaction of service.

Dingell, wife of long-time Congressman John Dingell, is president of the General Motors Foundation, and executive director of National Corporate Activity for GM.

Awards were presented to Emma Jean Woodyard, arts/communication; Barbara Palmer, business/industry; Kay Beard, government/law; Viola Dougherty, professions; Rutha Burney, volunteer services, and Kelly Pierce, youth, at the Fairlane Club in Dearborn on Friday.

Local Auto Company Achieves 100% Financing success Rate

Auto Finance Center in Ypsilanti just announced they have achieved an unprecedented 100% success rate in getting credit approval for their potential customers.

"We specialize in getting financing where other companies fail," said Jon Raider, manager of Auto Finance Center. "We can normally get approval on just about any auto or truck loan within 1 hour.

"What seems to set us apart from most of the other dealers, is that we have people that put in that extra effort to help people with bad credit."

Over a period of time, Auto Fiance Center has developed a special relationship with many of the banks and other financial institutions which gives them an edge in these type of contracts.

"It is not uncommon for our people to talk to as many as 20 to 25 different banks on any given day. We not only offer financing for everyone, but get some very special rates due to our high volume."

"Once again," Raider said, "It is the dedicated people we have been able to hire and keep that makes us so successful."

If you feel you could use their services, contact Auto Finance Center (313) 482-1222 or drop by at 1379 Michigan Avenue, Ypsilanti, ask for Lisa.

WE HELP TALENTED BOYS BECOME SUCCESSFUL MEN. SEE HOW. NOVEMBER 16TH. NOON - 3:30 P.M.

Parents seeking a well-rounded education for their middle-school or high-school age son will be encouraged by the results of a Jesuit education. For example, our class of 1998, made up of 130 boys, produced:

- ★ 12 National Merit Semifinalists
- ★ 4 National Achievement Semifinalists
- ★ 1 student scored a perfect score on the ACT
- ★ 1 student scored a perfect score on the SAT
- ★ 100% of the students will attend college

Your boys will be impressed by our new Athletic Director and Basketball Coach, Brian Miller, formerly of Eastern Michigan University. We have 28 athletic teams, most with records that rival our academic prowess. (Our Soccer Team made it to the 1997 State Final Four Championships.)

We have a tradition of educating "men for others" since 1877.

We invite you and your son to become part of that tradition.

Plan on attending our OPEN HOUSE Sunday, November 16th. Noon until 3:30 p.m. Call Jeff Cameron, Director of Admissions, for more information at 313-862-5400 ext. 234.

Teachers take turn at counter

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus school administrators, teachers and other support staff members got a real Big Mac education last week, as their students taught them on-the-job fast food skills at the local McDonald's restaurant.

Assistant Principal Doug Hoffman revealed Romulus High School will share in the profits from last Wednesday 3 to 7 p.m. sales. That money will be added to the district's Student of the Month program, Hoffman said.

While that final figure has yet to be announced, Hoffman said, he was told that sales during those hours were up about 40 percent from normal.

The high school administrator revealed that he had a taste of all McJobs from making french fries and hamburgers to wiping tables to cleaning restrooms.

Assisting Hoffman were teachers Kathy Abdo, Marci Tomchick, Cathy Uhring and Gail Coleman; secretaries Paula Smith and Genevieve Dugan; para-professionals Mildred Clayton and Joseph Avery; Claude Siders, director of special services and Melvin Kimbrough, assistant principal.

Hoffman said he had received a flyer from McDonald's a while back concerning the McEducator Day program nationally and contacted Judy Powers from the Wayne road McDonald's and set up the program conducted last week.

The educators were given a brief training session to "learn first hand about McDonald's ingredients for success."

McDonald's proudly reveals that it teaches more teens (about 16 million nationally) basic job skills than the U.S. Army.

Friends of Sassafra honored

Despite rainy weather, supporters of the Sassafra Trails, including State Senator Loren Bennett (R-Canton Township), were present this past Sunday to praise those who fought hard to save the area from future development.

At an outdoor ceremony, Friends of the Sassafra Trails were honored with the White Pine Award for Environmental Excellence. The award, given by Republican Senator Loren Bennett, recognizes groups or individuals who make significant contributions in preserving Michigan's environment.

Each member of the friends of the Sassafra Trails were honored with a Senate certificate praising them for their hard work in preserving the nature area. In addition, a White Pine tree was planted at the trails in the group's honor. Friends of the Sassafra Trails President Kevin Headrick and Treasurer Teresa Robbins accepted a legislative tribute and the White Pine Award on behalf of the Friends.

Several local dignitaries were on-hand for the celebration including Ed Turner and Martha Pitsenbarger, both members of the Wayne-Westland school board and Wayne-Westland Superintendent Greg Baracy, as well as Richard LeBlanc from the Westland City Council.

Learning Leads to a Better Life

In good company

I was in good company Friday when I attended the annual YWCA of Western Wayne County-sponsored Women of Achievement awards ceremony.

It was an inspiring and awesome experience to be among so many accomplished, talented and successful women of all ages, races and nationalities. When the list of accomplishments for each winner was announced, it was evident that the recipients of the awards were indeed worthy of recognition.

Kay Beard, who was re-elected 10 consecutive terms to her seat on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and who is a active in community service, was honored in the Government/Law category.

Viola Dougherty, who is an advocate for students with special needs and worked to establish a YWCA day camp for trainable and educable mentally impaired children, earned her honor in the Profession category.

Rutha Burney, who is president of the Inkster Goodfellows and is active in promoting career days and health immunization fairs, received her award for Volunteer Services.

Being personally acquainted with the three women gave me a special insight into the reasons that they were selected for their outstanding leadership and excellence in professional and personal endeavors and an appreciation for their hard work and dedication.

Although I had not met them previously, I was impressed with the qualifications of the remaining three honorees: Barbara Palmer, Business/Industry, Emma Jean Woodyard, Arts/Communication, and Kelly Pierce, Young Woman Award.

After hearing the long list of accomplishments of the youngest recipient of the award, one of Kelly Pierce's friends quipped, "Now she's working on a cure for cancer." That is a bit of an exaggeration, but I expect to hear more of her in the future if she continues her community service into her adult years.

It was a personal honor for me to have been a nominee for one of the awards, and to have been nominated by a woman for whom I have great respect, Theola Jones, the 1994 recipient of the YWCA Women of Achievement Award for Volunteer Service.

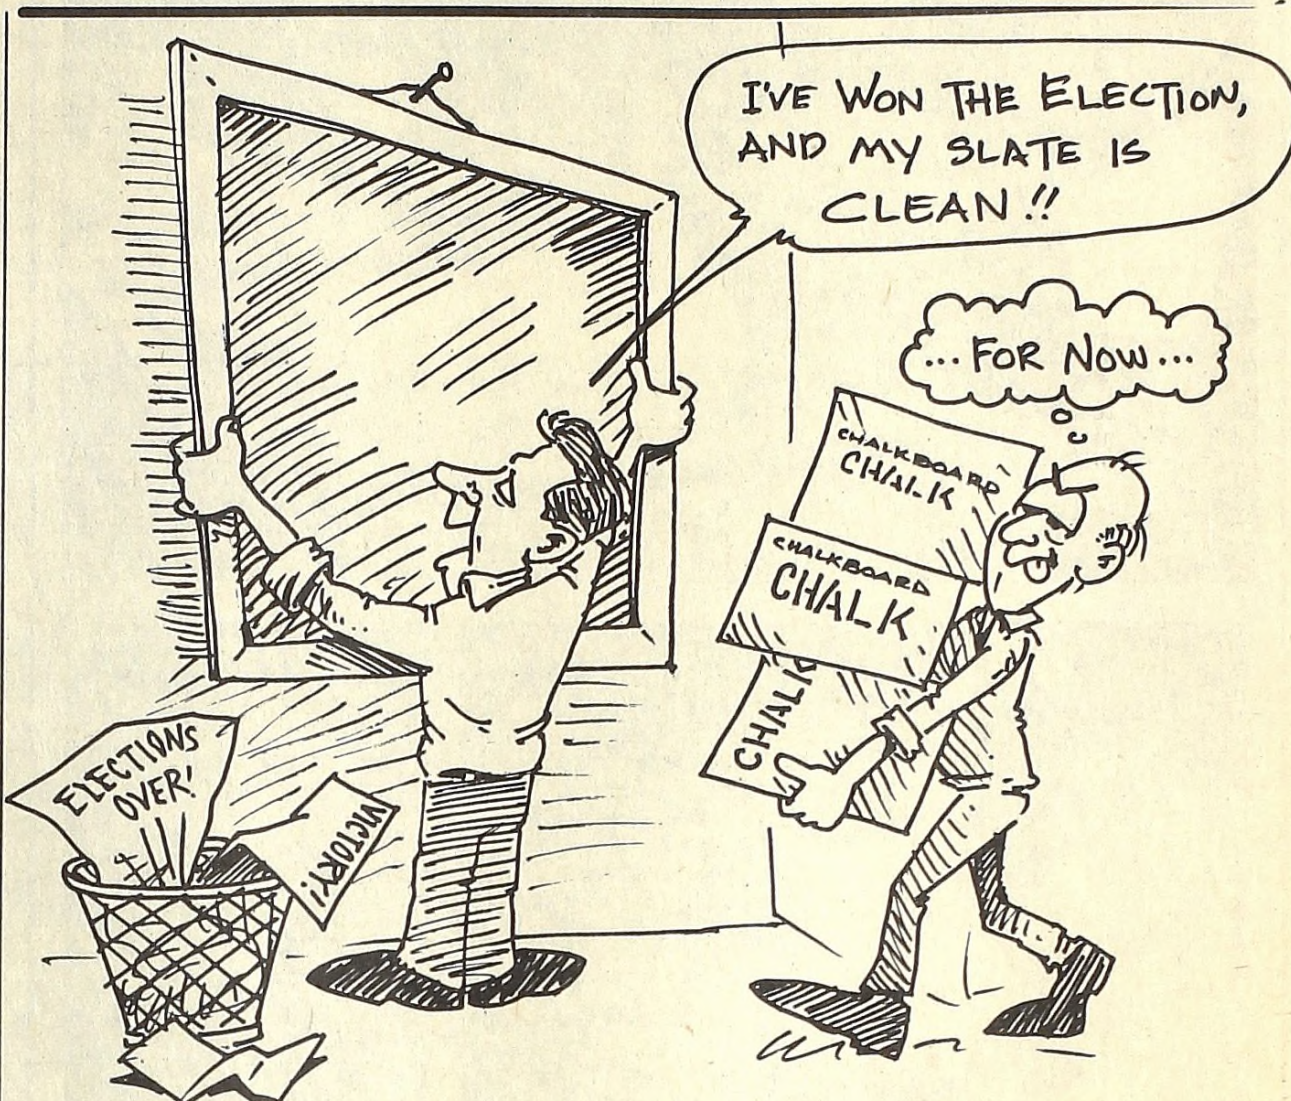

Theola Jones continues the volunteer service that earned the recognition in 1994 and also is an esteemed co-worker. Each month, she and Maude Reid compile the Good News edition of the Inkster Ledger-Star, which relates the positive news about the city, its schools, sororities, clubs and citizens.

Bulls, bears & chickens

To the editor:

Are the U.S. financial markets going to end up like the Japanese markets?

It's starting to look that way. Consider:

There are really three types of stock markets -- bull markets, bear markets, and "chicken markets." Now, chicken markets may be new to your financial zoology, but please bear with me.

In a bull market, the market trend is up and the mood is euphoric. The investing motto is: "Buy the dips."

In a bear market, the market trend is down, and the mood ranges from mild gloom to outright panic. The investing motto is: "Sell the blips."

In a chicken market there is no market trend, and the mood is one of disgust with the financial markets in general. The investing motto is: "Invest in bonds."

This type of market tends to occur after a big run up in stocks has collapsed. Typically, the bulls have sold their "long positions," the bears have covered their "short positions," and the small investor has been left "holding the bag."

In a chicken market, people avoid stocks like the plague. This type of market is a period for "forgiving and forgetting," and sometimes it takes a whole generation to achieve.

A chicken market separates major bull-bear market cycles from each other, and provides a "base" for the next bull market to start from.

Examples of chicken markets are Japan in the 1990s, and the U.S. in the 1930s and 1970s. Contrary to popular opinion, the 1930's were not a bottomless pit of downward gloom for stock investors. Rather, the 1930s were simply "choppy" and directionless, as was a similar period in the 1970s.

Stock investors, like all gamblers, need to see a trend. Nothing destroys a gambler quicker than "choppiness" and lack of a directional bias.

Whether a bull-bear cycle ends with a dramatic "crash" as in 1929, or simply by a merciless "whipsawing" of investors as occurred in the 1970s is irrelevant. The result is the same. Trillions of dollars of paper wealth disappear from corporate and personal balance sheets.

I should mention that the current cycle seems to have a 1920s-like "stock craze" aspect, and that could make the coming "market break" more damaging to the real economy than in the 1970s, when laborers and labor unions were still strong and prosperous.

Additionally remember, that during a chicken market extremely low interest rates don't help the markets or the economy very much, because everyone is too broke, to "chicken" or to disgusted to want to borrow money. Technically, this is called a "liquidity trap." Japan is in one now.

The U.S. could be entering a classic liquidity trap very soon. All it would take is for a couple million 401K investors to simultaneously call their brokers or money managers and utter four simple words: "Put me in bonds."

The rest will be history.

Families supported

To the editor:

Ronald Brownstein reports that marriage is the most effective program for Americans to fight poverty. The poverty rate for two-parent families has not increased although single parents' poverty rates continue to increase.

The decline in the sanctity of marriage, the stability of marriage, has brought us many problems. The children of broken marriages, even unstable unions, are more likely to drop out of school, engage in very early sex, has babies out of wedlock, and find the drug scene an easy one to join.

The living together mode is no longer a badge of shame, but a life style though to be ordinary and acceptable. The institution of marriage could be responsible for our recovery as a nation in many ways.

Once again the two-parent family, one man, one woman, needs to be respected and sanctified, and become the moral bedrock necessary for health families and communities.

Safe firearms use encouraged

We commend the organizations which sponsored the Gun Safety program for children last weekend in Belleville.

One of the tragic consequences of the proliferation of gun ownership in the United States has been the number of children who have been killed or injured by firearms.

It is said that more than half of all homes have guns on the premises, and no matter how well hidden the firearms are and regardless of the many warnings from parents and other adults, curious children are tempted to touch and examine guns -- often with deadly results.

Some 30 children gathered Sunday to hear Wayne County Sheriff's Department officer David Green explain the dangers of guns at the program sponsored by the Huron Valley Conservation Association and the Belleville Moose Family Center.

During the presentation, the youngsters chanted the Eddie Eagle slogan, which explains the steps to take if a firearm is found: "Stop. Don't Touch. Leave the area. Tell an adult."

Officer Green also displayed a number of trigger locks which can be placed on handguns, and encouraged parents to lock their weapons when they are stored in the home.

These general rules for firearms safety were also presented to the adults in the audience and they bear repeating, especially just prior to the hunting season:

- Handle all firearms as if they were loaded.
- Always keep the firearm pointed in a safe direction (never at another person or at yourself).
- Keep your finger out of the gun's trigger guard and off the trigger until you have aligned the gun's sights on a safe target and you have made the decision to fire.
- Always be certain that your target and the surrounding areas are safe before firing. (Never fire at a movement, a noise, a flash of color or a rustling bush without positively identifying your intended target.)
- Whenever you handle a firearm, the first thing to do is to open the action to determine whether or not the firearm is loaded.
- Thoroughly read the instruction manual supplied by the firearm manufacturer, and make sure the weapon is in good working order and that the barrel is not obstructed before firing.
- Use only ammunition recommended by the firearm manufacturer.
- Never use firearms while under the influence of drugs or alcohol.
- All firearms should be stored unloaded and secured in a safe storage case, inaccessible to children and untrained adults.

Fond farewell to Sharon Popek

For more years than she wants to recall, Sharon Popek has been a part-time writer for this newspaper, lately for MCN and prior to that Associated Newspapers.

She began her employment at the newspaper as a high school student typing engagement and wedding announcements, but she is best known for her weekly columns, It's Great to Live in Wayne which she has written for the past 17 years.

This week, Sharon submitted her last column before relocating to North Carolina, which she will undoubtedly also find "to be a great place to live."

We thank Sharon Popek for her many years of service to the newspaper.

pect quite the opposite reaction from their own people? For years now it's been said that the Vietnam War was lost, that it constituted nothing more than a huge waste of life, time, goods, and that from its sprang nothing but bitter fruit of frustration and despair and endless suffering of mind and spirit. About 57,000 casualties fell during the fighting. In the long years since, it is estimated that between 100,000 and 200,000 suicides must be added to the final body count among American troops who fought there. Why? What has driven these good and worthy men to such an end?

My sense of this tragic reality is that it stems from a deep and deadly guilt which feeds upon a massive misinterpretation of history, officially sanctioned and accepted for years pretty much without question. These late casualties are convinced that they lost the War for their Country. And given the line of though which has prevailed, what else has there been to believe?

But is this the true picture that emerges today when we take a step back to gain a realistic historic perspective of the event? Was the Vietnam War won or lost? And if so, who won, who lost? It's important to remember that the Vietnamese Regular and the American Soldier were never really fighting the same war. His was a continuation of the war which the Vietnamese had been waging for years against a string of invaders -- Chinese, Japanese, French, and finally, the Americans. He was fighting for his homeland. And although he failed to win a single decisive battle, for reasons we all know and understand, American chose not to exercise it full power and withdrew.

So what about our war, the war of the American soldier? Ours was a war of idealism. We were told we were over there to stop Communism from taking over Southeast Asia. Well, how many nations in Asia, or in the entire world for that matter, have gone Communist since the Vietnam War? Look at the reality which now prevails in Vietnam itself.

It is long past time for us to end the delusion of a war lost and for a general overhaul of American perception of this watershed event in history. We need to open our eyes and end twenty-five years of confusion and shame. Today's reality testifies mightily that the American sacrifice in Vietnam accomplished its stated objective and that those who fought so bravely there are true heroes of this nation.

It is now time for the pain to end. Lincoln's words at Gettysburg seem remarkably applicable to Vietnam: "It is for us the living rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us -- that from these honored dead we take increased devotion -- that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain ..."

Big Brother is watching

I am writing in response to a Sound-Off complain about the fact that election workers can see who you are voting for in Westland.
I remember back in '92 they wanted to put on your voting slip a "D" or an "R" before you stepped into the voting booth. Which reminded me of Big Brother.
I wrote a poem, back in '92 which fits this complaint.
I would really appreciate it if you would please publish it:

Big Brother hit today's polls, which was one of his many goals.
There is no secrecy or freedom now,
He has made a solemn vow.
He is taking over with,
arms unfurled
in today's world,
and that is no myth.
One of his worst instincts,
is to invade the cities precincts.
1984 is no more but Big Brother is trying to settle the score,
by putting his foot in the door.
and, confusing all,
by making Government fall.

Questions about education answered

Kathleen Chorbagan, who served on the Wayne-Westland Board of Education for 10 years, is available to answer questions about education that are posed to her by Western Wayne County residents.

Chorbagan, who currently is in her 11th year on the Wayne County Board of Education, is a member of the Wayne County Association of School Board, Michigan Association of School Boards and the National Association of School Boards. She is also a Michigan Certified Board Member.

She begins her series with the following question: What is the building used for on the corner of Howe and Van Born roads in Wayne?

Chorbagan provides the following answer:
The Wayne County Regional Education Service Agency, once called Wayne County Intermediate School System, is a county government agency which functions under the direct authority of the State of Michigan.

Almost 30 years ago, the State Legislature authorized through legislation, 56 intermediate school districts in the state. These facilities are operated to oversee areas of education such as Head Start, Special Education, School-Community Outreach, Professional Development and Student Audits.

Each Intermediate has an elected Board of Education of five individuals who live within the Intermediate's boundaries. They are elected by the 34 local districts located in Wayne County. Each member serves a six-year term and makes no more than $1,500 per year as a stipend for service. It is the Board's job to hire a superintendent and to write policy for the organization.

The Intermediate system here in Wayne County started in Detroit at the Detroit School Center Building. Several years into its existence they acquired the property at Howe and Van Born roads. The three-story structure that you see today was erected to house this growing and diverse educational service provider.

Today, the building houses the offices of a unique group of educators who provide services to educators and students in the 34 local school districts in Wayne County. Federal and state money filter through this agency to districts throughout the county.

In the last few years, the agency has become very diverse in its approach to servicing people not only in education, but in many other areas. Local firefighters take training classes at this facility, bus drivers and truck drivers take their tests for licensing. School board members from all over the county meet and attend seminars at RESA. It provides cutting edge technology and training.

RESA has become a focal point for reaching out into the county's communities and providing educational services to all its residents. RESA's role continues to grow as society places more responsibilities on educators and educational facilities. RESA's role is to assist where needed in the evolution of change whether it be for students or educators.

People at RESA are proud to be known as service providers in the field of education.

Editor's note: In future columns, Kathleen Chorbagan will answer questions about curriculum and running for school board posts in addition to any other questions posed to her. Send questions to Kathleen Chorbagan, MCN, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. 48184.

American education saluted

During the week before Thanksgiving, communities coast to coast will pause to give thanks to the people who work to educate America's children.

American Education Week, now in its 76th year, will be observed Nov. 16-22.

"American Education Week is a time to celebrate our schools and salute the unsung heroes of education," explains Bob Chase, president of the National Education Association (NEA). "It's also a time to recognize those small miracles that happen every day in our classrooms, and to acknowledge the thousands of success stories in schools across the nation."

Among the unsung heroes Chase mentions are the special teachers making a difference in children's lives. They can be found in all types of schools, at all grade levels.

Nov. 19 has been set aside specifically to honor education support personnel-- secretaries, custodians, cafeteria workers, bus drivers, aides, paraprofessionals and others whose contributions to schools are invaluable.

"We hope that schools everywhere will use this week to invite the public in for a look, to host events that are both fun and educational, to sponsor read-ins and book fairs, and to reach out to their community," NEA President Chase said.

American Education Week was first established by the NEA and the American Legion in 1921 as a way to spotlight the need for education to combat the illiteracy and the lack of physical fitness that plagued American youth in the wake of World War I. Today, American Education Week has 13 organizational cosponsors, including the U.S. Department of Education and the PTA.

To underscore the importance of education in shaping children's lives, the theme of this year's event is Teaching Children to Think and Dream. "Education is about possibility," explains Chase. "It enables young people to fulfill their potential, develop ideas, and imagine a better world. Without education, children not only lack the skills they need for the future, but they also lack hope."

Belleville, Glenn ousted in first-round

AA Huron ends Tiger playoff dreams

An inspired Ann Arbor Huron brought Belleville down to earth Saturday night.

Making their first appearance in the post-season playoffs, the River Rats cashed in on four crucial Belleville turnovers and the Tigers' inability to convert on two crucial fourth-down plays for a 34-14 victory over their first-round Class AA Region 2 opponents.

"Give them a world of credit," said Belleville coach Bob LaPointe after the season-ending defeat. "They did what they had to do to beat us."

LaPointe stressed that he believed the turning point of the game was when Huron's defense managed to stop the Tigers "on those fourth-down plays after we had penetrated deep into their territory."

"If we had converted I felt we could have stayed in the game, however we didn't," the veteran coach said.

Belleville came into the first-round showdown with impressive victories over state ranked powers such as Monroe, Dearborn Fordson and a surprising easy victory over a highly-touted Romulus.

Huron is undefeated. The River Rats will place a 10-0 record on the block when they take on Walled Lake Western on Saturday. Western edged Brighton 29-28 to qualify for the regional championship game.

The two finalists will meet at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Riverbank Stadium in Ann Arbor to determine which team will advance to the state semifinals. Western is the defending Class AA state champs.

The River Rats got on the board in the second quarter to break a scoreless tie when quarterback Joel Przygodski connected on a 11-yard touchdown pass that tight end Qasim Basire made a diving catch of.

The hosts made it a 14-0 game shortly afterward as Przygodski culminated a sustained drive with senior fullback Cinque Carter's one-yard touchdown plunge into the Tiger end zone.

Huron put the game out of reach shortly after the intermission as Przygodski against struck with a TD aerial, this time to Mike Kelleher that covered seven-yards. That River Rat score capped a 65-yard drive.

Kelleher also stopped a Tiger threat when he managed to pick off a C.J. Grantham pass in the end zone.

All-Area roster next week

The first-round of the Michigan High School Athletic Association football playoffs proved to be the last-round for area high school teams as Westland John Glenn and Belleville, the only two area teams that qualified for post-season play, were sidetracked by their opponents in their region playoffs on Saturday.

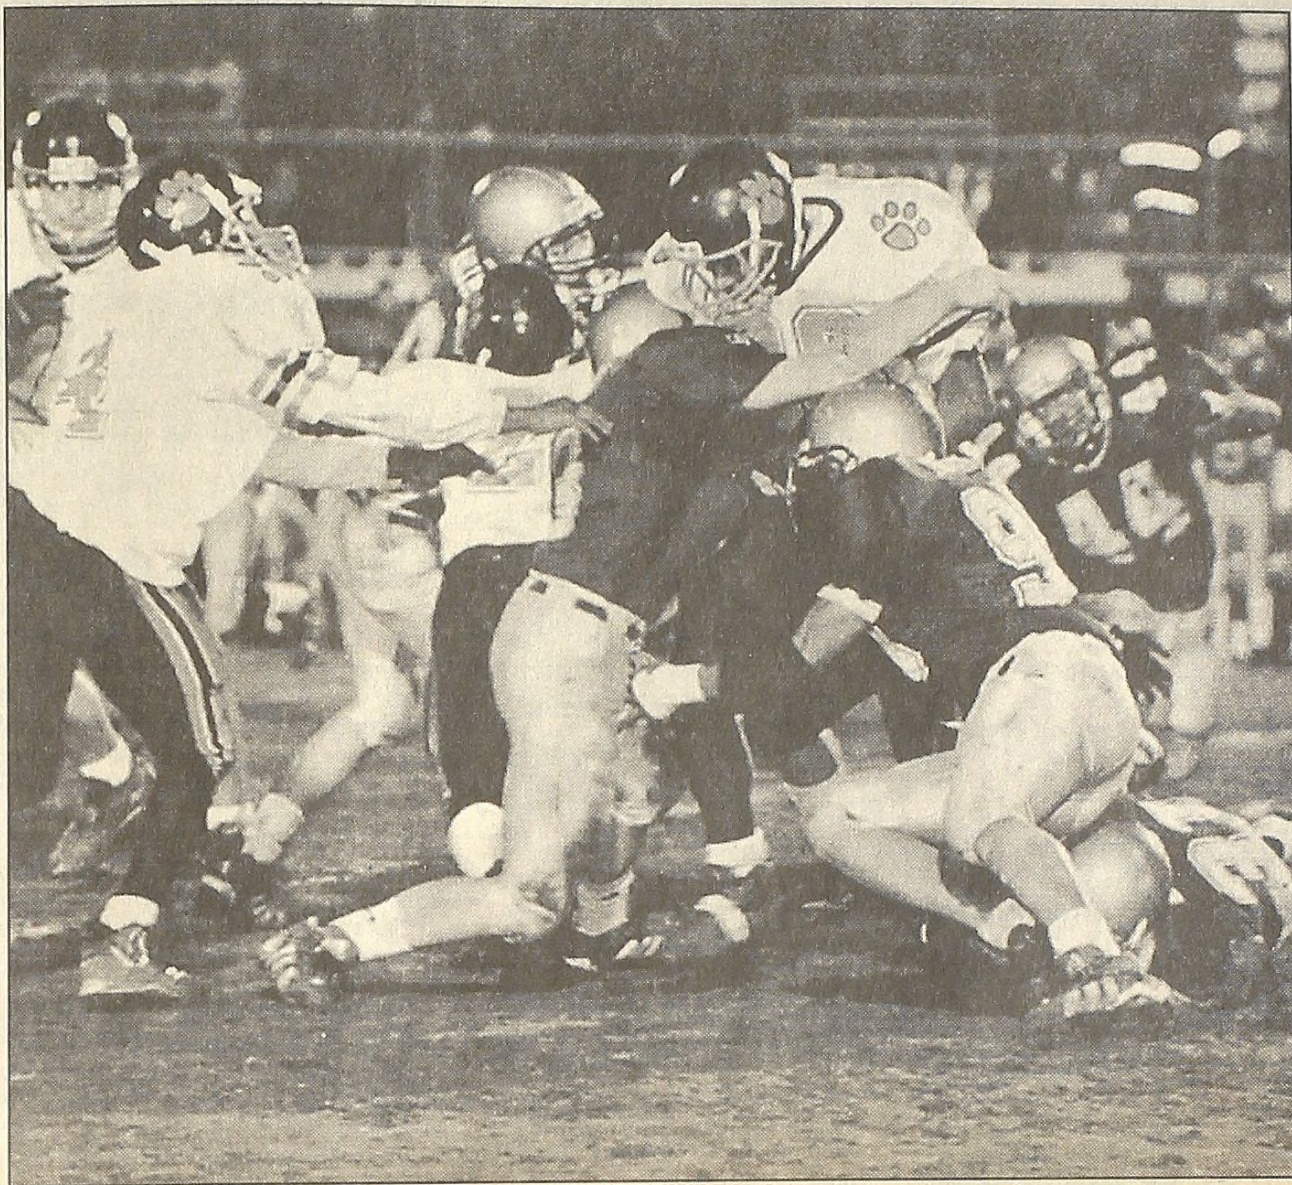

Though the 1997 football season officially has ended for all of the local teams, the season just would not be complete without the Michigan Community Newspapers' All-Area Roster.

That roster is being finalized by the MCN sports staff, in

Romulus wins Gold Division title Eagles head for Garden City district playoffs

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Ron Bayes knows what it takes to produce a winner.

The Romulus basketball coach has had his share in the past. And has a winner now in the form of the girls' basketball team.

"It takes a lot of discipline, dedication and team work," said Bayes who took a leave from coaching after 12 years with the team, but returned to the hardwood and the chalkboard a year ago.

A year ago, the Eagles won only two of their 21 games.

This week, the Eagles will go to the Class A District playoffs with a 17-2 overall record, an untainted 11-0 Mega Conference Gold Division record, and the divisional title in their pockets.

What a difference a year - and a coach - make.

Bayes and the players (and their parents) are obviously pleased with the complete turnaround.

"These kids did a lot of growing this year," said Bayes after a lopsided 64-18 victory over Melvindale. "I knew the talent was there. It was a question of getting it out of them."

"We're pleased, very pleased with the progress of this team, but there is still a lot of work ahead of us."

Romulus will be heading to Garden City where five other title hopefuls - Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn, Belleville, Westland John Glenn, and the host, will be waiting to deflate the Eagles' egos.

Belleville is coming off of a successful Mega Blue Division season; Wayne has looked good in the Mega Red, while Westland John Glenn has a very competitive team.

Add that up and it comes to some exciting games in the district, Bayes predicts.

"This is one tough district," Bayes said. "You can count on more than a couple of dog-fights over there."

The "easy victories" may hurt, not enhance the Eagles' preparation for the post-season run.

Viking coach looks to future Dismal 1-8 season won't detour coach Orr

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Week-after-week his team was blown off the field.

When Inkster High suffered its season-ending, eighth consecutive setback, a 42-0 thrashing at the hands of Lansing Catholic Central, who had sent its second string to play, one wonders how much more Inkster coach Jerome Orr can take.

A 1-8 year in his first year as head coach, and only a handful of players turning out for the team this year, is there a glimmer of light at the end of the tunnel for the Viking coach?

He believes there is.

Despite the fact that this is one of those kinds of seasons most coaches would like to forget, Orr doesn't want or will not forget. It will be used to rally the troops, he says.

"This is a season I will never forget," Orr says. "It is a season that our kids have been humiliated and embarrassed. It is something we will use as a reminder to rebuild this program."

Orr said he realized there would be a challenge when he accepted the position a year ago, but he also knew that the program would not be turned around in a season, even two.

"I am confident that it will eventually. I have made the commitment. I am not one to buckle because of a setback or two," Orr stresses.

Orr praised the small cadre of players who managed to "stick it out to the end." He said their work ethics and unwavering loyalty to play football kept him and his staff going.

Inkster was one of five former Suburban Athletic Conference schools that, through a legal settlement, was admitted into the Mega Conference this year. The other SAC schools that realigned with Mega Conference included Dearborn Heights Robichaud, Willow Run, River Rouge, and Ecorse.

Inkster's football team was assigned to the Gold Division, the expansion fourth division previous three-tier conference. (The conference has

Rockets are shot down by Shamrocks

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

A makeshift Westland John Glenn backfield was no match Saturday for a veteran Detroit Catholic Central defense in the first-round of the Class AA Region 3 playoffs.

With Glenn's senior quarterback Justin Berent at home recovering from knee surgery, DCC managed to shut down the Rocket offense until late in the game and claimed a 28-6 victory over the Westlanders.

The Shamrock victory qualified coach Tom Mack's club for the regional championship which will be decided Saturday afternoon in Troy.

Berent, considered one of the finest high school quarterbacks in the state this year, was not in the stands in Pontiac's Wisner Stadium. He was at home, recuperating from surgery. The young QB reportedly had been ordered by his doctor to stay off his feet.

In his place, Glenn coach Chuck Gordon used backup QB Nick Hudson, who had stepped in the slot to lead the Rockets in the stretch and into the playoffs.

Held scoreless the first 12 minutes of the game, DCC's Shamrocks got on the scoreboard early in the second quarter when senior fullback Chris Duewecke took a pitch-out from quarterback Adam Tubaro and scampered 19 yards into the Rocket end zone for the first of his two TDs of the sunlit afternoon.

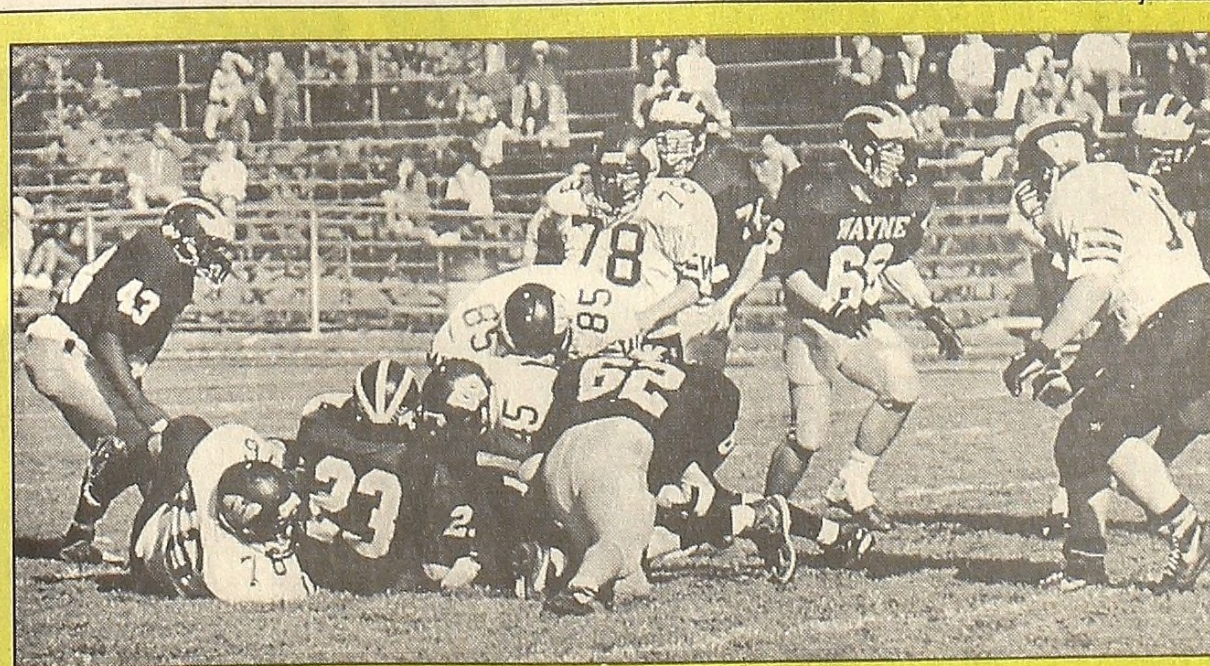

Two DCC touchdowns in the third quarter convinced the Rockets this was not the year they would be returning to the Silverdome.

Tubaro went to work after an exchange of punts and combined with split end Don Flankster on a touchdown pass that eventually lifted the Shamrocks to a 14-0 lead. Then, in the same period Joe Saah set up DCC third TD with a 58-yard punt return. Running back Joe Sgrout broke loose on an off-tackle, 12-yarder to score. The game turned into a DCC 21-0 blowout.

When Duewecke came back in the fourth quarter with his second TD plunge, fans began leaving the Pontiac Stadium and heading for Telegraph Road.

But not before Glenn's junior tailback Reggie Spearmon almost broke one for a touchdown. Spearmon slipped

Garden City to host youth hoop clinics

One of the top basketball shooting coaches in the nation will host a clinic-workshop for area youngsters at Garden City High School.

Coach Pat Miller who worked with former Detroit Pistons coach Chuck Daly when the Pistons won back-to-back World Championships will be offering young basketball players tips on how to improve their shooting skills from 1 p.m. until 5:30 p.m. at the high school.

Garden City High is located 6500 Middlebelt Road.

The clinic is open to players - boys and girls - ages 5 through 12. Players may register the day of the clinic, but are urged to sign up early because enrollment is limited. There is a $40 registration fee. Participants will receive a free basketball and a detailed manual on shooting skills.

Here's what Earvin "Magic" Johnson, Los Angeles Lakers' great, has to say about coach Miller's shooting system: "As a pro, I know the importance of a perfect shot. Coach Miller has developed a simple, easy to learn approach for players of all levels to understand and feel what shooting a basketball involves."

"Listen up to the finest shooting instructor and create your own magic touch."

Kenny Anderson, of the Portland Trailblazers, who has the touch and the magic, adds: "When I want to talk about shooting, I rap with Coach Miller."

Glenn junior varsity posts perfect season

Westland John Glenn will be back.

Although the Rockets were eliminated by Detroit Catholic Central in the first round of the playoffs on Saturday, coach Chuck Gordon's Rockets will harvest the talent from an undefeated junior varsity team to help shore up his roster next year that may place the Rockets in position for a serious bid for the playoffs and beyond.

The junior varsity turned back all nine of its opponents this year. They outscored their opposition 194-58. They also posted a thrilling 20-19 victory over Farmington Harrison in a Western Lakes Conference crossover game.

The coaching staff included Kal Deluca (head coach -linebackers and offensive line); Jim Paling (line coach); Brian Stephenson (defensive coordinator and offensive backfield) and Steve Waller (wide receivers - defensive backs).

The junior varsity roster included: Jeff Albrecht, Wilson Anderson; Matt Berent, Jon Buhro, Jason Curzytek, Rajiv Dashairya, Josh Day, Joe Decker, James Doherty, Richie Eisiminger and Dan Fedulchak.

Also on the team were: Gary Finkle, Anthony Gibson, Jon Gibson, Durgut Haljimi, Mike Hiltunen, David Holloway, Pacino Horne, Josh Hudson, John Hunger, Zachary Jackiw, Mike Johnson, Michael King, Nicholas Lada, Kevon Latimer, Derek Laurain, Dave Lewandowski, Keith Luke, Bill Marra, Chris McFarland, Todd McGraw, Dave Mijal, Jeff Mitchell, Kenneth Orr and Nick Paddock.

Completing the lineup are: Donovan Parkinson, Steve Perry, Rickey Peters, Josh Phillips, Ryan Ratray, Tom Riney, Mike Rogiero, Nick Rogiero, Chad Sansom, Randy Sinnott, Chad Smith, Daniel Smitherman, Bill Soto, Tyler Thomason, Mark Wacker, Jim Waller, Brandon Webb, Thaddeus Wilson, Chris Wolfgang and David Wolfgang.

The Rockets launched the season by beating Inkster 22-14. They went on to post victories over Plymouth-Canton 45-0; Farmington 7-0; Livonia Stevenson 14-6; Plymouth-Salem 17-7; North Farmington 32-13; Walled Lake Central 21-13; Farmington Harrison 20-19; and walloped Wayne Memorial 46-6.

Big cheer for bronze medalists

If you want to play in one of the basketball leagues in the Westland Youth Athletic Association this season and don't want to pay late fees for registering, you have until Nov. 15 to sign in.

After Saturday, players will have to cough up an additional $5 for late fees, WYAA officials said.

WYAA is looking for boys and girls, ages 8,9, and 10 for their freshmen league; 11-12 for junior and 13-14 for varsity leagues.

Players will fill rosters of teams that will compete in their leagues starting in December.

Registration will be accepted at the Lange Compound, located at 6050 Farmington Road.

Freshmen are urged to call Keith DeMolay at 722-1251 for further information.

Those players planning to compete in the junior varsity are asked to contact Jody Richardson at 459-9975; varsity players should talk to Ester Albrecht, at 326-8982 or Tracy Mijal at 397-3015.

more than 30 members divided into four divisions - Red, White, Blue and Gold - usually on the basis of their records.)

The Vikings finished in the cellar of their division in football.

Despite their dismal showing, at least one player, Ashante Walton, was selected as a running back and linebacker in the All Division Team. Walton because the first-ever Viking football player to be honored in the division.

"Ashante" is a born leader and a natural athlete," Orr commented.

Because of numbers - there usually were no more than 15 players suited up for a game - players usually played defense and also offense.

That fact claimed its toll on the players, according to the Viking coach.

"We usually managed to give most of our opponents a good game for about 14 minutes," Orr points out. "Then, the kids got tired, and the rest is history."

However, most of the team will be back next year.

This year's roster, which includes Shelton Allison, a defensive halfback; Mario Logwood, (linebacker-running back), Cornelius Williams (safety - split end), Broderick Johnson (tight-end), Mario Franklin (linebacker); Keith Jackson (tackle); Jonathan Miles (center), and Adrian Jones (running back-linebacker) is remarkable because, according to Orr, most stuck with the program.

A lesser player may have turned his back after the first couple of blowout losses and never return, Orr says.

"We had a remarkable season," says Orr, "because we managed to overcome adversity and field a team. No one ever accused this team or players of quitting."

"Because of their work ethics, I am confident we will be back."

Romulus

"There is no question we will need to step up our game a notch or two," Bayes commented. "We're looking at (district) opponents who play tougher competition. They're in the upper brackets of our conference."

In the meantime, Melvindale and Inkster became Romulus' latest hoop victims.

With Brandi Huggins tossing in 17 points, grabbing 12 rebounds and also coming up with five steals and five blocked shots, the Eagles crushed Melvindale 64-18.

LaNeda Davis added 16 points and 14 rebounds, and Tracy Lovelady chipped in 14 points and five steals while LaTonya Bell finished with nine points and nine steals for the winners.

Romulus leaped from a 21-9 first-half lead to an easy 54-16 victory over the Vikings of Inkster as Lovelady led the way with 19 points and five steals. Bell collected 16 points and carded 13 steals while Davis turned in with 12 points and 10 rebounds.

The Roster, with the top players on offense and defense, along with a Coach of the Year, will be presented to our readers next week.

In the meantime, readers who have candidates or favorite-sons who they believe merit recognition for their contribution to their teams, please contact MCN staff writer Tom Mooradian at 729-4000, with their nominations.

off tackle, dodged a couple of DCC defenders and broke loose on a 66-yarder before he was brought down.

Hudson eventually scored from the three for the lone Glenn score.

Spearman had an excellent day as he rushed for 110-yards on 17 attempts. Hudson completed six of 13 passes for 62 yards with Eric Jones on the receiving end of three of those passes.

The loss left the Rockets with a 7-3 overall record, and their fifth appearance in post-season play in six years.

DCC, which was ousted by Glenn in the first round a year ago, 15-14, boosted their record to 9-1 on the season. The Shamrocks will be playing Troy on Saturday in the second round of the playoffs.

Thanksgiving dinner spiced up with history

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

Chefs at the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village are using historic American recipes from Thanksgiving celebrations of the past to create special meals this holiday season.

Featured dinners include sauerkraut-stuffed roast turkey, mashed turnips and Indian pudding.

Along with authentic early American recipes, the Museum and Village staff pass along some Thanksgiving tidbits from the first celebration:

- Fewer than 50 people survived the first winter in the New World.

- The Pilgrims forged a friendship with an American Indian named Squanto who taught them what they needed to survive in this country.

- After the colonists' first bountiful harvest, Pilgrim Governor William Bradford declared a day of Thanksgiving. Indian Chief Massasoit attended along with 90 braves and brought a gift of five deer. The feast lasted three days.

Venison, roasted or stewed partridges, ducks, geese and turkeys (all common game along the Cape Cod shore), were probably served at the first Thanksgiving dinner. Cranberries were boiled to make a sauce for the meat, perhaps sweetened with a little wild honey.

Boiled pumpkin also was served, but since there was no flour or molasses, there was no Thanksgiving pumpkin pie. Dessert for the first Thanksgiving consisted of wild fruits and nuts which the Pilgrim children gathered.

The "spirits" served at the first Thanksgiving was a very sweet, strong wine made from wild grapes.

Dessert for the first Thanksgiving consisted of wild fruits and nuts which the Pilgrim children gathered.

For entertainment, the colonists competed against the Indian braves in racing and jumping games, and the Pilgrims also showed off their musketry with a target shoot while the Indians demonstrated their skill with the bow and arrow. They also played stool ball, a type of croquet game.

If you want to re-create an authentic first Thanksgiving meal, you can try the following recipes:

Roast Turkey with Sauerkraut

Stuff a turkey with sauerkraut dressing and sew it up with trussing needles. Rub with butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Baste frequently. Roast until done, depending on the size of the turkey.

Sauerkraut Dressing

1/2 cup butter
4 tbsp. flour
5 cups sauerkraut
2 large apples, chopped fine
1/2 cup vinegar
6 whole cloves
4 tbsp. brown sugar
Melt butter in pan. Add flour and stir until smooth. Add sauerkraut, apples, vinegar, cloves and brown sugar. Mix well and use for stuffing.

Settler-Style Bread Dressing

18 cups bread crumbs (36 slices)

1 cup butter
1-1/2 tsp. salt (or to taste)
1/2 tsp. pepper (or to taste)
2 onions, minced
1/4 tsp. sage (or to taste)
turkey broth
giblets, finely cut Saute onions in butter until soft. In a separate bowl, put bread crumbs, melted butter, sauteed onions and spices together and mix. Use just enough turkey broth to moisten the dressing. Dressing should not be too dry or too sticky. May be used to stuff the turkey or baked in a separate bowl (in which case, the bowl should be buttered).

New World Mashed Turnips

2-1/2 lbs. turnips, peeled and diced
1/4 tsp pepper

4 tbsp. pepper
2 tsp. salt
chopped parsley

Place turnips in four-quart saucepan with one inch water. Bring water to boil. Reduce heat to low, cover and steam 15 minutes or until tender. Drain. Mash turnips. Add butter or margarine, salt, sugar and pepper until well mixed. Garnish with chopped parsley.

Traditional holiday pies finish the meal with flair

Chefs prepare traditional Thanksgiving meals and desserts to serve at Greenfield Village's Taste of History restaurant and Eagle Tavern coach stop.

One need not visit the village to sample traditional holiday pies. Recipes for Pioneer Pumpkin Pie, Homestead Raisin Tarts, Yankee Apple Pie, Colonial Cranberry Pie and Fermenty Indian Pudding are listed below:

Pioneer Pumpkin Pie

2 eggs, slightly beaten
1-16 oz. solid pack pumpkin
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. ginger
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. cloves
1-2/3 cup (1 can) evaporated milk

Mix ingredients in given order. Pour into pie shell. Bake in pre-heated oven at 425 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce temperature to 350 degrees and continue baking for 45 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Pie Crust

2 cups flour
1 tsp. salt

Chefs prepare traditional Thanksgiving meals and desserts to serve.

Yankee Apple Pie

2/3 cup shortening or lard
6 to 7 tbsp cold water
Mix all ingredients. Roll out half the dough on lightly floured surface until it is 2 inches larger than inverted pie pan. Transfer dough to pan. Fill with apples, cranberries or other filling. Roll out top crust and put on top of pie; cut slits to let out steam. For a nicely browned crust, brush with a mixture of one egg and one cup milk just before baking.

Yankee Apple Pie

8 apples (small)
2/3 cup sugar
2 tbsp. flour
1 tbsp. butter
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
Peel, core and thinly slice apples. In a small bowl, mix sugar, flour, cinnamon and nutmeg. Mix well and then toss in with apple slices until blended well. Pour into pie pan. Dot with butter which has been cut into bits. Add top crust. Bake about 45 minutes to 1 hour or until crust is golden brown at 350 degrees.

Colonial Cranberry Pie

2 quarts cranberries
2 pints water
2 pounds dark brown sugar
Take two quarts of cranberries, pour two pints of water over them and place them on a moderate fire. Add two pounds dark brown sugar and let this simmer until the cranberries are completely soft, drain excess liquid. Let mixture cool in a bowl. Put them into pies or tarts and bake at 350 degrees until center of pie or tart is firm and crust is golden brown. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Homestead Raisin Tarts

1 cup shortening
2 cups flour
pinch salt
1/2 cup ice water
Mix together flour, shortening and salt by rubbing mixture between fingers just until mixture forms balls of dough the size of a pea. Add water, mix only until water is absorbed. Do not over mix. Wrap and refrigerate for at least four hours. Work pastry into molds, side and bottom.

2 cups brown sugar

2 eggs
1/3 cup butter (3/4 stick)
Beat above combination until fluffy. Mixture should be smooth, not gritty.

Add to first three ingredients and mix thoroughly:

1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup raisins
1 cup very finely chopped walnuts

Fill molds half full. Bake 350 degrees for 25 minutes.

Fermenty Indian Pudding

1 cup cracked wheat
1 quart milk
1/2 cup heavy cream

1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. ground mace
1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 egg yolks
Brown sugar to sprinkle, if desired

In a large pot, bring the milk to a boil, and add the wheat. Lower heat to simmer, cover and continue to cook for 1/2 hour or until soft. Add cream, salt, mace, cinnamon and brown sugar.

Continue to simmer, stirring occasionally, until most of the liquid is absorbed (20 to 30 minutes).

In a small bowl, beat the egg yolks and slowly stir 1/2 cup of the wheat mixture into the yolks. Then, stir the yolk mixture into the pot, and continue cooking for another five minutes, stirring frequently. Transfer to serving bowl. Sprinkle brown sugar on top if desired. Serve warm.

Places to go revealed by duo

By BEN E. JET
& BOB HARRIS

Who's who? Benny is young, Bob is not. Benny is tall, Bob is not. Benny has a big beard, Bob does not. Benny is married, Bob is not. Benny plays in a band, Bob does not. Thirty years ago Benny was still playing in a band (so much for Benny being young) Bob was running teen concert clubs, a teen newspaper, managing bands and was a cool young dude! The same year, the first issue of Rolling Stones Magazine rolled off the presses, with John Lennon on the cover, and sold for only 25 cents.

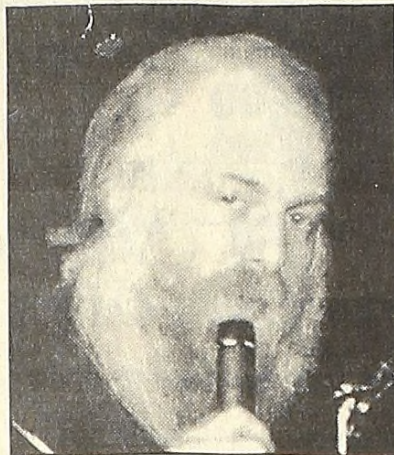

Greg's Bar and Grill (formerly Greg's Emergency Room) on Palmer and Merriam, across from the Hospital, is back with a vengeance, with great food and drink lunch specials. Food, fun, darts, pool, dancing, and a great place to hang out.

Buck's Place on Warren one block east of Telegraph has Monday night football party, 50 cent beers and $1 drinks all night. Live bands and dancing Thursday through Sunday with no cover.

Village Bar on Michigan Av-venue in downtown Wayne, has homemade dinner special every Thursday, live bands Thursday through Saturday. An excellent lunch and dinner menu, with the best place to shoot pool at Benny's Brew and Cue, next door.

Kicker's All American Grill, home to Joey's Comedy Club on Plymouth Road in Livonia. Daily dinner specials, ribs, chicken, seafood, steak and great pizzas.

Northern Lights, a Danish dining experience, in the Ann Arbor Farmer's Market in downtown Ann Arbor serves open-face roast beef, chicken meals and desserts with a truly international flavor.

American's Pizza Cafe on Main Street in downtown Royal Oak. Great variety of food, pizza, beer, wine and now live jazz on the weekends.

Macaroni Grill, Northwestern Highway, Farmington Hills. Gallon jugs of red wine on the tables -- you're on the your honor, full view of a bustling kitchen, pizza, pasta, and more.

The new Leonardo's on Merriam in Romulus. Now a full service restaurant and bar. Famous Italian dishes, prime rib, cannoli and tiramisu.

Lakepointe Yacht Club, Ann Arbor Road, Livonia. Very casual atmosphere. It features seafood, steaks and hefty servings of the usual tavern fare.

Beaver Creek Tackle and Beer Wayne Road, Westland, is a real up-north bar and grill serving wild game around community fireplaces.

Bob's pick of the week: Carl's Chop House, Grand River at the Lodge. It has been Detroit's legendary steak house for 75 years. Complimentary shuttle service to all Detroit theater, sports, and music events. (Orchestra Hall, Music Hall, Fox, Fisher, Masonic, Tiger Stadium, Renaissance Center) Seating for 1,100 (banquets, catering and steaks second to none.)

I've been telling my partner Bob, over and over, Benny and the Jets Band now playing every Tuesday at Reiser's in Westland, Thursday at the Village Bar in Wayne, Friday and Saturday at the Wine Cask Inn on Warren Avenue, (one mile east of Telegraph) and every Sunday at Buck's Place in Dearborn Heights.

If Picasso could sew.

35 years that refashioned America.

He changed the way women dress. Restored comfort and ease. Made the garment and the body beneath, one. Natural. Sensuous. See his most influential work. Chosen from his personal collection.

The exhibition was organized by the Museum of Art, Toledo (Toledo Museum of Art, Toledo, Ohio) and the Toledo Museum of Art, Toledo (Toledo Museum of Art, Toledo, Ohio).

1930s touch featured at Automotive Hall of Fame

The new Automotive Hall of Fame's classic 1930s showroom features a treasure from an era when famous people and famous cars reached their zenith in style and power.

Here, in the splendor of potted palms and ornate chandeliers, the world's great classics will be showcased with a different car featured every three months. Drawn from the world's greatest private and museum collections, these classics will represent the very best of the car builder's art.

The Automotive Hall of Fame opened with one of the world's most desirable automobiles, a blazing red and yellow 1931 Cord L-29 boat tail speedster built for the Paris Auto Show of that year. Featuring a full bar and tobacco humidifier in its door panels, it reportedly was once owned by movie star Jean Harlow.

Adding to its intrigue is its story of mysteriously disappearing in Europe. Fortunately, plans for the car fame is designed and built to be a visitor attraction and educational resource. It celebrates accomplished people of the worldwide motor vehicle industry for the purpose of inspiring others, especially young people, to higher levels of achievement in their own work and lives. It is a unique "people place" of innovation and inspiration where interactive experiences and one-to-one demonstrations are entertaining and enlightening.

- Battle Creek sponsors its 18th Holiday Parade on Nov. 22 at 6 p.m. The Festival of Lights also begins on the same day.

- Lights Before Christmas begins on Nov. 21 at the Toledo Zoo and continues through Jan. 4. The display will be closed Nov. 27, Dec. 24 and 25 and Jan. 1. Nightly hours are 5 to 8:30 p.m. Admission for adults is $4 and for children and senior citizens, $2.

- A Christmas Carol plays at Meadow Brook Theatre from Nov. 28 to Dec. 28. Call 248-377-3300 for ticket information.

- Henry Ford Estates host Christmas at Fair Lane beginning Dec. 2 and continuing through Dec. 31. Public tours are available during December on weekdays. For tickets or information, call Kathleen Haag, 593-5590.

- Noel Night is celebrated at the University Cultural Center from 5 to 9:30 p.m. Dec. 6. A holiday tree-lighting ceremony plus hand bell choirs and outdoor serenades are featured.

- Victorian Christmas at Ford-MacNichol Home, 2610 Biddle Ave., Wyandotte on Dec. 6 and 7 from 1 to 5 p.m. Admission is free.

- Schoolcraft College's annual Madrigal dinners, Dec. 11, 12, 13. Call 462-4417 for information.

- The Nutcracker will be performed on Dec. 12, 13 and 14 at the Plymouth-Salem Auditorium by the Plymouth-Canton Ballet and the Plymouth Symphony.

EXPLORE ANCIENT EGYPTIAN TOMBS WITHOUT ALL THOSE UNPLEASANT CURSES.

Nothing ruins the majesty of an ancient Egyptian tomb faster than an annoying death curse left behind by some vengeful pharaoh. Fortunately, that's about the only bit of ancient Egypt you won't experience firsthand at the

Splendors of Ancient

Egypt exhibit. As the sole Midwest site for this collection, the Detroit

Institute of Arts is the only place you'll be able to discover ancient Egyptian artifacts that span over 1,500 years. Including many wall carvings, mummy cases, jewelry and statues. So, don't miss this once-in-a-lifetime exhibit. Otherwise, you'll be the one doing the cursing. The Parade preview

Sneak peek taken of Thanksgiving Parade

By JENNY JOHNSON
MCN Staff Writer

With protection from the elements of November weather, some lucky recipients got to check out the floats and fun that will prance down Woodward Avenue for America's Thanksgiving Parade on Thanksgiving morning.

The party was a chance for float sponsors and volunteers to see their floats up close and to treat themselves to a day of entertainment.

This was the first year the party was also open to the public. Over 1,000 participants walked through the Parade Studio on Mt. Elliott on Detroit's east side.

Children were mesmerized by the movable Peter Pan float, sponsored by Art Van Furniture -- the crocodile

Just ask why any kid -- Elmo is big. But they will be amazed to see a, bigger than life, 50 ft. balloon of their favorite Sesame Street character coming down Woodward Avenue this year.

chomps, the boat rocks, Captain Hook teeters and the cannons fire.

There are five other new floats this year. They are: The Book Worm sponsored by Blue Cross Blue Shield; A Christmas Carol sponsored by Hudson's; Cinderella sponsored by General Motors; Mary, Mary Quite Contrary by first-time sponsor English Gardens; and the Skillman Foundation Student Design Winner.

The winner will be announced Nov. 24. The student's drawing will be incorporated into a float and join the 75 other units on the parade route.

Just ask any kid -- Elmo is big. But they will be amazed to see a, bigger than life, 50 ft. balloon of their favorite Sesame Street character coming down Woodward Avenue this year.

Besides the sneak peek at the floats, the party included entertainment by the Star Trax Dancers.

With a group of about 30 children, they hustled, hooky-pookied, and sang the afternoon away.

For the kids who weren't dancing there were games, face painting and cookie decorating.

Another big hit was the three clowns who twisted and turned long balloons into different animals.

The food was also getting a lot of attention. Cotton candy, popcorn, strawberry pie and hot dogs were offered free to all party goers.

The parade will be broadcast Thanksgiving morning from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. on WDIV-TV, Channel 4; and WJR Radio, 760 AM.

But for those who don't enjoy sub zero temperatures or are too busy basting a turkey on Thanksgiving morning, the preview party was the perfect opportunity to feel a part of the parade festivities.

Navigator fills high end spot for sports utilities

Lincoln enters the sport utility field at the high end with the 1998 Navigator. It combines the comfort of a premium sedan with the confident ride of an advanced SUV.

Designed to fulfill the needs of prosperous adventure seekers, the Navigator blends power and poise in a bold new Lincoln. In my opinion, this sport-ute will appeal to a niche in the full size utility segment made up of customers, who want the functional attributes of a full-size utility vehicle, but who refuse to sacrifice luxury.

Standard Navigator ingredients are a 5.4 liter SOHC V-8, a four-speed electronically controlled automatic over-drive transmission, load leveling air suspension, four-wheel disc brakes, specifically engineered tires, a distinctive Lincoln exterior appearance and a luxuriously outfitted interior.

The Navigator's V-8 is engineered for low maintenance and exceptionally high reliability. The engine delivers 230 horsepower at 4,250 rpm's. Another good thing about this vehicle is that it needs no additional tune-up service for at least 100,000 miles beyond normal fluid and filter changes.

I found the Navigator to be very plush inside, with everything you need right at your fingertips. The seating for the driver and front seat passenger was exceptional, even the middle row of seating was fine. However, if you are in the third row, forget about it. No comfort there whatsoever. You would probably have to be five feet tall just to sit back there.

The stereo was wonderful, with the sound being crisp and clear. And the compact disc player has a great sound with no skipping even when venturing out over a bumpy road. All of the gauges were in reach and nothing got in the way of them, like in other sport-utes that I have tested.

Power in this vehicle was at a premium, but so was the gas with the average ranging from 12 miles per gallon in the city to 15 on the highway. The acceleration was great, it doesn't matter if you are taking off from a dead stop at a traffic light or merging onto the freeway, the Navigator moves.

Visually, the Navigator is unmistakably a Lincoln, with fine detailing such as a chrome edged front grille, clear-lens halogen headlamps, and a front fascia integrated with bodyside moldings and wheel-arch flares. In back there's a distinctive combination liftgate and liftglass to provide the utmost in convenience in loading small or large items. There is plenty of cargo space, if you do not have the third seat installed. Otherwise, space is at a minimum.

I thought the Navigator was nice to drive with barely any road noise at all, the handling was smooth and it almost felt as if I was floating on air. However do not make a sharp turn in the vehicle, I warn you now! I found it to be very top heavy and felt as if I ever needed to make a defensive move I would sure enough tip over. That and the rear passenger seating problem were the only things that I found wrong with this sport-ute. Except for the price, a whopping $70,000 for the one I test drove. And less than $50,000 base. I thought that this was a very stately sport-ute, however if you don't need all the flash, go with the Expedition. It is also very nice with a much smaller price tag.

New model homes unveiled

With city and state officials in attendance, and plenty of interest from local residents, Financial Communities couldn't have scripted a better grand opening celebration than the one that took place in Inkster last month.

Prices range from $79,900 to $137,900 and include floor plans with three to four bedrooms, attached garages and many quality standard features.

"The response has been phenomenal. We have had heavy traffic through the models which proves that people are looking for a great home at a great price," said Financial Communities Marketing Director Jeff Miner.

Stardust Lounge celebrates 23 years of business

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

How would you like to go someplace where "everybody knows your name"? OK, maybe they don't know your name, but they're nice to you just the same.

This place is the Stardust Lounge, located at 3736 Inkster Road, a half-mile south of Michigan Avenue. Patricia Williams has owned the lounge since it opened in October 1974, and says her business has definitely gotten better with age.

"We are selling more food now," she admits. "We're more like a restaurant with drinks. Consistency and quality have kept us going over the years."

Some of the house specialties include barbecue rib tips with Dorsey's special sauce, juicy corned beef sandwiches, and fish. Williams claims the Stardust Lounge has the best jumbo fried shrimp around.

The laid-back atmosphere of the lounge gives patrons the opportunity to hang out and enjoy the food and music.

A DJ provides music 11 p.m. to 2 a.m., on Wednesdays and Fridays, and from 12 to 2 a.m. on Saturdays. Ballroom dance ing and hustle lessons are available at the Stardust Lounge from 9 p.m. to 12 a.m. on Thursdays.

"You can have a lot of fun learning the steps and meeting new people," Williams said. "Don't feel embarrassed, because there are a lot of people who don't know the steps - like me."

On Fridays, from 7 to 11 p.m., Star Time Karaoke Company allows patrons to let their talent shine through. There is also an after work party beginning at 5 p.m. on Fridays, with a complimentary buffet, featuring some of the tasty food.

Come out and enjoy a soul food dinner at the lounge from 4 to 9 p.m. on Sundays. The dinner features BBQ ribs, fried chicken, smothered pork chops, cornish hens, ham, turkey and meat loaf, along with collard greens, black-eyed peas, dressing, candied yams, desserts and much more. You can dine-in or carry out.

"I've seen many different generations of people," Williams said of the biggest changes she has seen. "Trends constantly change, and you have to stay up on them. If you snooze, you lose."

For more information, or to find out the daily lunch specials, call (313) 277-3810. Catering is available by calling Pat at (313) 277-8626.

Service news report

Marine Lance Cpl. Demir X. Lico, son of Xhezmi D. and Angela Lico of Westland, has departed on a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea with the 24th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU), embarked aboard the ships of the USS Guam Amphibious Ready Group (ARG).

Marine Lance Cpl. Clemente Herrera, son of Emilio and Lupe Herrera of Westland has departed on a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea with the 24th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU), embarked aboard the ships of the USS Guam Amphibious Ready Group (ARG).

Navy Seaman Timothy S. Murphy, whose wife, Jeannie, is the daughter of Jerry and Laura Peters of Westland has recently completed a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea aboard the amphibious transport dock USS Ponce, as part of the USS Kearsarge Amphibious Ready Group.

The 1992 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School of Wayne, joined the Navy in December 1993.

Air Force Airman Aaron R. Smitt has graduated from the tactical air command and control apprentice course at Hurlburt Field, Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

Graduates of the course studied the systems and procedures necessary to assist in the planning and application of tactical air resources in support of ground forces.

Smitt is the son of Richard M. and Ann F. Smitt of Morley Inkster.

Kids look at future careers

It's never too early to give youngsters an opportunity to pick a career - even in their kindergarten and first-grade years.

Meek Elementary School in Inkster will host a Career Fair for pre-kindergarten, kindergarten and first grade pupils during the week of Nov. 17.

Local businesses, agencies, trades and occupations will make presentations during Career Week, according to counselor Terrie Scott.

The objectives of the program are to familiarize children with various careers, make them aware of new occupations and present future career ideas to them.

"Join the Meek Train to the future," is the theme," Scott said.

A student program and play, "I Know What I Want to Be," will be presented at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 20 at the school, located at 1771 Henry Ruff Road.

State begins process of putting 5,000 cops on patrol

Thomas L. Kelly (D-Wayne) announced that Michigan communities wishing to hire more police officers will soon have that opportunity. The state has begun distributing applications for local police departments to qualify for $10 million provided under Public Act 111, a new state law pushed through the Legislature this year by House Democrats. A major House Democratic initiative sponsored the new law which will sored the new law which will allow Michigan communities to hire 5,000 new police officers over the next three years with little cost to local taxpayers. Fifty percent of the funding is reserved for smaller communities. "House Democrats are committed to keeping Michigan's families safe and secure," Kelly said. "By placing additional cops in our communities we are letting criminals know that their unlawful actions will not be tolerated." The new law allows local communities which hire patrol officers through President Clinton's federal COPS program to receive 75 percent of the funding for each officer from the federal government and 20.5 percent from the state. Local communities would be responsible for just 4.5 percent of the cost for the first three years. If all 5,000 officers are hired, Michigan's total police force would grow by 25 percent. "These grants will help local communities put more officers on patrol without sacrificing other essential programs and services," House Speaker Curtis Hertel (D-Detroit) said. "This is the first step toward a real reduction in the crime rate, and a safer, more secure future for Michigan's families."

Dealership donates to charities

North Brothers Ford, Inc. has recently made several donations to local charities.

At a recent Westland City Council meeting, J. Douglas North and Thomas North, president and vice-president of North Brothers Ford, respectively, presented $15,600 to Westland DARE, Westland Youth Assistance Program and the First Step program. The donations resulted from the dealership's eighth annual golf outing held for employees, customers and valued suppliers. Raffle tickets are sold to the golfers at the outing to redeem prizes. The total dollars raised are then matched by North Brothers Ford and along with supplier contributions are then split between the three local charities. Total proceeds to the local charities from cumulative golf outing now total over $45,000.

Another noteworthy contribution was made by North Brothers Ford in September. A check for $5,000 was presented by Gwen North, Customer Service director, on behalf of the dealership to Bob Kozowski, Westland Parks and Recreation Director and Mayor Robert Thomas. The donation was made during the final week of construction of the new children's Playscape.

The dealership employees dressed down for a good cause on Oct. 10, 1997. For a donation of $5 each employee could wear jeans for the day in honor of National Denim Day for Breast Cancer Awareness. A total of $770 was collected from the employees and an additional $770 was added by the dealership. A check for $1,540 was then presented to the cancer Foundation. The dealership hopes to make this a quarterly event.

We are proud to donate to causes that benefit the children of our employees and customers as well as the local community in general. We have a generous group of individuals that are employed at North Brothers and we are proud to be associated with such caring people," says J. Douglas North. North Brothers Ford employs 150 people and is located at 33300 Ford Road, Westland.

Tipster receives $800

A suspect faces up to five years in prison and/or a $2,500 fine after a caller to the HEAT (Help Eliminate Auto Thefts) confidential tip reward line (1-800-242-HEAT) alerted police to the location of a retagged vehicle that had a questionable link to the suspect. Using information provided by the caller, police were able to locate the retagged vehicle and apprehend the suspect. The suspect, who was facing outstanding felony warrants in Kentucky, awaits arraignment in Michigan to answer to charges of altering the identity of a vehicle with the intent to mislead and receiving and concealing over $100. The caller received an $800 reward for the helpful information. The HEAT tip line (1-800-242-HEAT) is a prime example of how citizen action can coordinate with law enforcement.

Thanks a Million

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN by PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives... also knows where it goes."

Color Percy Blue For The Request of Green

Dear Percy: I really need you to come through for me again. Six weeks ago you sent me $650 to replace my living room furniture. It was just the boost I needed and I appreciate that you didn't print my letter in your column. My in-laws would never let me live it down if they knew you were my guardian angel. Now I look around and the carpet and paint need redoing. For another $400 I could complete the room. Would it be asking too much for you to send an additional $400? I know I said that I would never ask again, but I really do need this.

Ms. H. P. ... Valley Ranger, Lewisburg, WV

Dear Ms. P.: I get the feeling if I sent the extra $400 suddenly your bedroom would look dingy and the kitchen would need sprucing up. Madam, I am not a personal financier willing to bankroll your interior decorating ideas. You convinced me the first time that new furniture would change your life. Now I get the feeling you take me for a soft touch. In other words, I won't be rolling out the red carpet for you—you'll need to get it on your own.

Mr. Ross: I'm assuming you're not a new age, high tech person, but that it won't stop you from considering my request. The Internet is a must for small business people such as myself. I'm not super computer literate and I will need to out source having a website done. I understand it can run in excess of $20,000. I manufacture small precision parts made to specs according to my customers. I believe I would have an edge over my competitors entering the 21st century with my own website. I'm confident your support will help blast me into the new millennium.

Mr. D. A. ... Pennysaver, South Bend, IN

Dear Mr. A.: I'm more computer savvy than you give me credit for. I have my own website: www.thanksamillion.com and it certainly didn't cost me $20,000. There are software packages available to help you construct your site. I suggest you find a young computer whiz willing to work at a reasonable rate who can help design the graphics and information. To get you started I'm sending $400 to set you up with a host server and an extra $100 to register your domain name. See you in cyberspace.

Dear Mr. Ross: It's almost 2:00 a.m., however, I can't sleep. My jaw is throbbing from getting a tooth capped today, but that pales in comparison to my headache when I think about the $482 dental bill I paid with my credit card. Early this summer I had a textbook case of the stomach flu. Later, I decided to get into better shape and began an early morning exercise program. It was short lived when I passed out the first day. The morning I was to leave on vacation, I woke up covered with chicken pox (yes, at the age of 40-plus). Then my mortgage company notified me that my escrow account needed a tad more money in it. My tabs are due for renewal this month and to top things off, my car needs a new fan motor. Thankfully, I do not have a dog to die. There is nothing here that I can't handle, as I have done so for years. I'm just plain tired of taking care of everything by myself. Can you give a nice, hard working gal a break? I have $200 in savings to help pay toward my dental bill. I would be eternally grateful if you could help with the rest.

Miss S. P. ... The News, Tuscaloosa, AL

Dear Miss P.: When it rains, it pours and it's rarely pennies from heaven. Sounds like a good book title, but it's really my way of saying I'm sending $282. May this recent turn of events place your luck in the positive column.

Editor's note: Check your local radio station for Percy Ross' call of the day and visit his web site at www.thanksamillion.com

Write Percy Ross, P.O. Box 39000-B, Minneapolis, MN 55439. Include your phone number and the name of this publication. All letters are read. Only a few are answered in this column; others may be acknowledged privately.
